

prism

Soundtect Prism panels reduce reverberation by offering Class A absorption to increase speech intelligibility in a specific area while reducing background sound noise levels.

The panels are easily to install; either wall mounted or used to create floating ceilings that absorb sound and enhance sound quality.

Soundtect offers design options that are unusual and stand out, giving designers more choice and flexibility for acoustic applications.

increase speech intelligibility in a specific area

